HONGKONG, APRIL 27TH, 1907.

"Following the example of China" was one of the first phrases to catch our eye when glancing through a brochure explaining the objects of the "Sinn Fein" movement in Ireland, which movement, as our London correspondent recently telegraphed, is spreading alarmingly. The words Sinn Fein mean "ourselves alone," and are the watchwords of a party dissatisfied with the "moderation" of the Irish Party in Parliament, as well as the title of a newspaper which defines and advocates their objects. In its issue of May 5th last year the Sinn Fein thus defined its aims: "We seek to hit England (a) through anti-entailment and the consequent crippling of her army; (b) curtailment of the drink traffic and the consequent diminution of her revenue; (c) through boycott of her industries, following the example of China and India." When a white European race flatters the Chinese by imitating their methods, to say nothing of the Indian swadeshi movement, its declaration of policy becomes of more than ordinary interest to here. We have heard of their attitude towards enlistment in the Army and Navy before. Every Irishman who fought for Britain was dubbed a traitor; those who joined the Boers were heroes. So recently as December 19th 1905, the "Rev." Canon M'KENNA, P.P. wrote in the Freeman's Journal advocating the raising of a memorial to the Irish Brigade who fought for the French at Fontenoy, "whose valour changed disaster into glorious victory." This glorious victory, over the British, took place in 1743, so that this Christian priest must indeed have felt charitable when offering a subscription towards a memorial that to his mind "should have been inaugurated long ago." As to the curtailment of the drink traffic, that is a good work avowedly undertaken with a bad motive. The "Rev." Father FLYNN S.J., preaching a year ago at Sheffield, did not seem then to think it absolutely necessary. According to the Weekly Freeman of April 7th he regretted that Irishmen were stigmatised as drunkards. "The name was foreign to an Irishman, and was imported into Ireland by the Anglo-Saxons, and before God they would have to answer for it." The objectionable word was so applied as early as A.D. 1187, but without going so far back, it is of interest to note that in 1905-6 the Irish spent £1 5s. 5d. per head of the population on spirits against England's £1 1s. 6d., or altogether Ireland spent thirteen millions sterling on a year's alcoholic drinks, which is not bad for such a poverty stricken and over taxed people, two thirds of whom are guided in their ways by the priests. With regard to the boycotting, we have always understood that it was an Irish invention. Certainly Sinn Fein speaks loudly when talking of imitating China and India. The United Irishman of Feb. 7th last year rather suggests that India got the hint from Ireland. In that issue it says, "we are glad to learn that a suggestion of ours to the patriotic leaders of the Indian National movement has been acted upon," the suggestion being to boycott

English goods. Copies of Sinn Fein, it is stated, have since been distributed broadcast among the natives of India. The patriots of the most distressed country are so much in earnest and the Celtic temperament is so prone to over-emphasis, that we can afford to overlook some of the wilder speeches about smashing England and the English into "smitherens," but these things just narrated have a nasty look, one that must alienate sympathy. Sinn Fein of September 15th last had an article headed "Ugly England," in which the following charge comment, "The English middle class, the common men than whom the world cannot show more ugly or more animal human beings," and so on, merely provokes a tolerant smile. Paddy's bark, when he is left to his own native good nature, is always worse than his bite, and when he prays that he may live to see the day "when the Irishman may be able to light his pipe with the last spark from the smouldering ruins of the British Empire,"—an actual oratorical outburst that provoked "loud applause"—we know it is only a figure of speech. The mischief is that Sinn Fein is a misnomer. Paddy cannot honestly say that the present revived Irish agitation is by or for "ourselves alone." It is all clericalism. We are told that "no one can fully understand the Irish question unless he reads about the Jesuits," and there is ample evidence that the Sinn Fein movement partakes more of the gallum theologium than of patriotism. Mr. MICHAEL MCCARTHY, B.A., himself a Roman Catholic and an Irishman, has written that the poor Irish don't know the real point at issue. "The priests fanned this hatred of the Irish for the English with superstitious breaths and blasts from the furnace of Rome. They fan it still." They are not in a position to deny this grave charge, all the graver because of their pious professions. The evidence is overwhelming. They preside at meetings or occupy platforms whence the bitterest things are said. The Archbishop of Tuam, Cardinal Logue, and several bishops and priests applauded when a speaker misused SWERTMAN said the English Government hates the Irish nation as that of Egypt hated the Jewish nation, and "would to God we had the power to call the ten plagues of Egypt on the English." There was "applause and laughter," in which the frocked humpbacks joined. The "Rev." Father McMULLEN was first president of the Paris branch of the Gaelic League, which adopts the Sinn Fein platform. It was a Romanist priest, the "Rev." ABRAM RYAN, who wrote in the Drogheda Independent of July 28th last year the following eloquent but un-Christian lines:—

"We'll swear by the bones in each
Coffin bed,
That we'll battle the Briton through danger and dread,
That we'll cling to the cause which we
glory to wed,
Till the gloom of our steel and the
sheek of our lead
Shall prove to our foe that we meant
what we said,
That we'll lift up the green and we'll tear down the red."

Sinn Fein of October 20th, reporting a debate at Maynooth College and its surprising majority for the Sinn Fein policy, says "the young priests of Ireland have much of the future of the nation in their hands." The "Rev." Father JOHN O'REILLY in Cape Town spoke openly to a meeting of the Catholic Association, that the Act of Union was brought about by fraud and was not binding on the conscience of the people. Catholicism honors secret societies, but it makes a conspicuous exception of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, which was "formed for the purpose of driving the English Government out of this old land of ours." It has 330,000 members, who have priestly permission to disregard any oath given to Protestant or heretic. The Jesuits are specialists at this sort of thing. Escobar in his "Moral Theology" teaches that "it is absolutely allowable to kill a man whenever the general welfare or proper security demands it,"—and PERROUX, in "Prælectiones Theologicae," a modern standard Jesuit work, says "Tolerantia religiosa impia est abasura." Fifty Romanist priests were present at a meeting at which the English were openly consigned to Hell by two speakers, and not one protested. On the other hand, at the same meeting the "Rev." PATRICK KAIN declared that "Ireland's hope lay in educating her sons to the use of the gun." There is no need to multiply these instances of clerical indecency, and we may close by mentioning that there is no denial that the priests influence voters, openly threatening eternal punishment to those who vote wrong. One priestly canvasser's formula is on record. It was, "Are you a Catholic, or do you want to go to Hell?" The curious thing is that Irishmen should overlook the historical fact that when they had "Home Rule" in GRATTAN'S Protestant Parliament, it was the priests who were its most bitter opponents. The Sinn Fein movement is said to be spreading. We have shown that it takes cognisance of events in far parts of the globe, and we may quote one more extract from its organ and manifesto: "When Australia grows wiser she may do great things if the Japanese do not in the meantime take her over. If we were Australians we would favour an Australian Republic under the protection of the United States." The Australians heartily detest the English, and there is much in common between Australians and Americans. In view of this and other cheerful specimens of its feelings for England, we can but regret the news that our Irish friends are being led astray in greater numbers. We blame not the sheep but the shepherds, and are tempted to paraphrase the "Rev." PATRICK KAIN (whose name rounds scripturally appropriate) and say that Ireland's hope lies in educating her sons to the use of the ducking-stool, for the glib-tongued knaves who seem to be making all the mischief.

Yesterday the evidence against Cheung Tai on the charge of murdering Yim Hong and his son at Pokfulam was completed, and Mr. Hazledorn committed him for trial at the Sessions.

Local Officers Commanding have been requested to warn the men under their command who keep dogs in barracks, &c, that they must take out licences for such dogs.

Soldiers have been notified that N.C.O.'s and men attending hospital, and invalids awaiting passage may in future be employed on light duties and fatigues unless otherwise recommended by the Medical Officer.

Owing to the depression in the China yarn market 25 out of the 37 spinning mills in Bombay decided to work only four days a week, starting April and continuing until the middle of June.

The "Bangali" states that "the movement" for economic and political freedom is a national, a frankly democratic one. Yet these democrats want special railway carriages for the orthodox so that they may not be brought into contact with the lower castes!

Now that motor-driven craft are becoming so common in Hongkong harbour, it is time for our legislators to consider amendments or additions to the law. It seems absurd that coxswains who are to run motorboats should be examined as if they were to run steam launches, for the best launch-coxswain would be liable to get into trouble with a motor. The new enterprise will have to be recognised sometime, so why not at once?

The Pope is preparing a Note to the Catholic Powers regarding the new conditions which have arisen in the East and the Far East as regards the protectorate of Catholics. His Holiness recalls the fears expressed in his White book in 1905. It points out that the rupture of all relations between France and the Holy See creates a new situation. A protectorate over Catholics cannot be left to a country in which there is nobody to whom the Holy See can apply when the interests of the faithful or of the Church are attacked. The Pope declares that France no longer recognises the sovereignty of the Pope, which has been recognised hitherto by all the laws, even the anti-clerical laws; and concludes by appealing to the Powers interested to devote anxious attention to the interests of Christianity in the East.

The members of the Craigavon Cricket Club will be "At Home" to their friends to-day from 4 to 6 p.m. (weather permitting).

A Chinese witness in a case at Singapore said he was a professional "storyteller." Every one in Court was inclined to believe he was, and the Bench aptly remarked: "We expect you to tell the truth here." The witness, however, explained that he was not an artist in the terminological inexactitude" line, but was a collector of tales of love and war to people who would pay to be amused. He sat by the roadside telling tales, and people gave him money.

One could not want a much better definition of motor-cars than that quoted by an Eastern correspondent of the Spectator. As far as one corner of India is concerned, he says, their first advent has caused considerable speculation and curiosity. Some of the villagers were overheard discussing the Amir's motor-car. "It is not a carriage, for it has no horses," said one. "It is not a train, for it has no rails," said another. "My brothers," said the oldest of the group, "we are as fools having no understanding. For 50 years the sahibs have been training their devil carriages to run on rails. Now at last they have learnt to run by themselves."

An interesting legend is related concerning the Huskisson family, in the country of Lancashire, for generations the country seat of the Turville family. The legend was that when the old walnut tree in front of the Hall died, the race of the Turvilles would also come to an end. This family dates back to Richard Turville, who died in 1415, and with the death of Miss Mary Fortescue Turville (sister of the late Sir Francis Turville, K.C.M.G.), which took place in April, 1906, the family of Turville in the direct line became extinct. In 1905 the walnut tree, although dead at the top, had leaves on all its lateral branches, but in 1906 there was not a single leaf out on it, so that the legend was fulfilled to the very year.

NAVAL EXTRAVAGANCE.

The Scalper has proved an expensive ship to the navy. Before passing into the possession of the Admiralty this vessel had been in use as a private yacht for 25 years, and it seems to have been anticipated, says the C. M. P. Controller-General in his annual report on expenditure, when the question of the purchase was under consideration, that the costs of alterations to fit her for surveying service would be about £2,000. This put in hand from time to time, as it was considered by the officers responsible that the directions given by the hydrographer were sufficient authority for the purpose. The actual cost of the vessel, therefore, was: Purchase, £15,000; alterations, £2,000; total, £17,000, to which should be added £266 for incidental charges.

THE TERRITORIAL ARMY BILL.

LONDON, April 24th.
Mr. Haldane's Territorial Army Bill has passed the second reading by 343/31. The minority included the Labourites. During the discussion, Mr. Haldane mentioned that the Colonial Premiers were unanimously of opinion that his proposed territorial force was the best pattern which they could keep in view in organising their home forces; thus there would be a chain of territorial force in the Empire which might afford a real sense of security. The Government regarded the bill as a bulwark against conscription.

RUSSIA.

LONDON, April 24th.

A sensation was caused yesterday in the Dunn by the reading of the report of the Commission, of which the truth was admitted by the Government officials, showing that the political prisoners at Riga had been subjected to horrible tortures prior to their execution, in order to extort confessions; two nails were extracted, and the victims were beaten with India rubber flails and their bones broken. The Government has announced that it has ordered an enquiry into the matter, and the prosecution of the guilty.

PHILIPPINE BOON.

EFFECT OF ESTABLISHMENT OF AGRICULTURAL BANK.

Under the Act for the establishment of an agricultural bank in the Philippine Islands, which received the President's approval on March 5th, the Government of the islands is authorised to guarantee a return of 4 per cent. on the actual paid up capital in an institution which shall lend money to the farmers in the Philippines on equitable terms and at an annual rate of interest not exceeding 10 per cent. The corporation to be formed will be allowed to lend money to farmers only. No loan in excess of $5,000 may be made to any customer, nor is the bank to be permitted to hold real estate for its own needs.
At present money cannot be borrowed by the Philippine farmer at anything like moderate interest. He is compelled at times to pay as high as 100 per cent for loans. The small farmers, particularly in the interior, are the prey of usurers, says the New York Sun, and the unsatisfactory condition of the agricultural community is attributed largely to this fact.

In searching for a measure of relief the Philippine Government sent a special commission to Egypt to study the Egyptian agricultural bank, instituted in 1902 at the initiative of Lord Cromer. The fellow had long suffered under hardships approximating to those in the Philippines. Lord Cromer's bank, by lending money at low rates, and breaking up the business of the usurers, gave opportunity to the small farmers to improve their methods and increase their lands under cultivation. The result was an immediate improvement in conditions, which has continued and promises to be permanent. The Egyptian bank has proved profitable, loans have been repaid promptly, and the business is believed to be on a sound basis.

The amount for which the Philippine Government may become liable under the new law is limited to $200,000 a year, and when the bank begins to earn profits it must repay any sums advanced to it from the public treasury. The guarantee of dividends is for twenty-five years, but it is believed that the institution will be self-supporting almost from the beginning. Its first effect will be to force a reduction in the rates charged by private lenders, and this in itself will be a boon to the islands.

SUPREME COURT.

Friday, April 26th.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

BEFORE Mr. A. G. WISE (PUNISHMENT JUDGE).

MASTER AND SERVANT.

Li Yau sued R. Hamilton, overseer on the Kowloon-Canton Railway, for $22 being wages as cook and boy for January and February of this year. Mr. M. J. D. Stephens appeared for the defendant.

The plaintiff stated that he was engaged as cook and boy at $11 a month on the last of January and not having received any money for his services he left on the 5th March. Under cross-examination by Mr. Stephens, he denied having been offered $15 for two months, the suggestion being that defendant retained the remainder to prevent him leaving without notice, that being a practice of the boy, about which the employees of the railway frequently complained. Plaintiff asserted that on one occasion, at the end of February, defendant placed $7 on the table for him which he refused to take. He then asked Mr. Hamilton to pay him for the one month and let the other stand over, but defendant would not accede to this request.

Defendant told the court that he employed the boy at $10 a month. He did not pay him at the end of January but at the end of February he offered him $15 saying that he would retain the other $5 so as to ensure plaintiff not leaving without proper notice. The boy left at the end of February.

His Honour—Well, he worked two months?

His Honour—He is entitled to his wages. You can prosecute him for leaving without notice.

Mr. Stephens—Yes, I told my client that, but he wanted to come into court and explain how it was he had not paid him.

His Honour—Judgment for $20.

"TICKS OF THE TRADE."

An interesting case was heard before Mr. Wolfe at the Magistrate's yesterday. Gunner Brown, of the R. S. A., summoned the master of the jewellers' shop at 55 Queen's Road Central for fraud. He said he had given defendant a gold ring to enlarge by the addition of a certain amount of gold, and defendant undertook to do this for $2.50. When complaint called on the day mentioned for the completion of the work he was informed that the ring was not ready. He returned a few days later and received the ring, paying the price stipulated. At the time he asked if that was proper gold and he was informed that it was better gold than had been in it before. Not altogether satisfied the complainant took the ring to another jeweller who informed him that some gold had been extracted and another mixture put in. It also showed two holes which indicated that the defendant had bored to ascertain whether it was gold throughout. His Worship thought the simplest plan would be for defendant to return the money paid to him for the work, but complainant pointed out that the ring which was a keepsake had been lessened in value.

His Worship—Will you promise to return the ring in its original state?

Defendant—Yes.

His Worship—What would it cost. He has already paid you $2.50 for making a mass of it. Defendant—Five or six dollars would make it right.

His Worship—Well you had better pay him the money and let him have it done himself. The money was afterwards handed over to complainant.

UNUSUAL PROCEDURE.

On Thursday night a bluejacket from H.M.S. Bedford and another from the Waterwitch got ashore, and soon were making things lively in Des Voeux Road. So riotous and disorderly were their conduct that they were arrested by the police and taken to the Central Station. Not long afterwards naval escorts arrived and the bluejackets were conducted to their respective ships to be dealt with by their officers.

AN UNWILLING SUICIDE.

A Chinaman on Thursday attracted a large audience to witness his clumsy and not very serious attempt at suicide. He had been arrested by the police on a charge of stealing $3, but there being no evidence against him he was discharged. Then declaring that as his master had falsely accused him of theft he was going to die, he went to a nullah, climbed down the spout, and laid himself on the dry bed of the nullah, pretending to be dying. Meanwhile the crowd had gathered, and needless to say, the greatest interest was manifested in the antics of the man. Soon a police officer appeared on the scene, and refusing to be impressed with the "dying" attitude induced the man to get up and walk. On reaching the ambulance the Celestial refused to walk any further and was promptly despatched by the officer to the hospital, whence he is expected to emerge in the charge of the police.

A SAFE REMEDY FOR ALL

SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES

If you suffer from any disease due to an impure state of the blood, from whatever cause arising, you should test the value of Clarke's Blood Mixture, the world-famous Blood Purifier and Blood Tonic. This medicine has 40 years' reputation, and is today more popular than ever, the reason of this being undoubtedly because this wonderful remedy does what it professes to do—it cures SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES PERMANENTLY.

Clarke's Blood Mixture

IS THE FINEST BLOOD PURIFIER EVER DISCOVERED.

It is warranted to cleanse the blood from all impurities, from whatever cause arising. For SCURF, ECZEMA, RASHES, SPOTS, BLOTCHES, BLACKHEADS, PIMPLES, and DISKASES, and SORES OF ALL KINDS. It is a safe and permanent remedy.

NOTE: This mixture is pleasant to the taste and is guaranteed free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, from infancy to old age, and the Proprietors submit evidence to prove its value.

Thousands of wonderful cures have been effected by IT. TRY MANY THINGS WITHOUT BENEFIT UNTIL YOU TRY CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE.

Mr. P. E. Lewis, 48 Bldg Street, Bow, Chesham writes: "Just a line in favour of Clarke's Blood Mixture. I had a severe case of skin disease, and tried many things without benefit until I took your remedy. After the eighth bottle I was quite well again. Please accept this letter as a token of my faith in your wonderful 'Blood Mixture'."—June 8, 1907.

Sold by all Chemists and Patent Medicine Vendors throughout the World.

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE

WHAT NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

HAS DONE

FOR OTHERS

IT MAY DO

FOR YOU.

CLARENCE HAMILTON.

"Enclosed you will find a recent photograph of myself, showing the growth of my hair since beginning the use of your Herpicide. Before using Herpicide, the top of my head was completely bald, but the use of only two bottles has brought a new growth of hair. I had spent between $30 and $50 on other remedies, but failed to derive any benefit until using your Herpicide. I cannot commend this remedy too highly to any with dandruff, baldness or falling hair."

(Signed) CLARENCE HAMILTON, Atlanta, Georgia.

WHILE CHRONIC BALDNESS is incurable, many cases of primary or incipient baldness have been completely cured with Newbro's Herpicide, the original remedy that "kills the dandruff germ." Of course, the rational plan is to save the hair while there is hair to save, but even after it is gone there is a "fighting chance" if the hair follicles are not atrophied. Herpicide stops itching of the scalp instantly.

OUR MAILS AT SUEZ.

SUGGESTED REVERSION TO OLD DESERT ROUTE.

Mr. Edward Dicey is the latest to take up the question of reviewing the practice of carrying the Indian mails overland from Alexandria to Suez. On the 17th February, Mr. Dicey first mentions that he has heard reports that the Indian Mail Service is likely to be transferred from Brindisi to Marseilles, adding that by next season a new line of Anglo-Belgian turbine steamers will be running, at the speed of twenty knots, from Marseilles to Alexandria, and will do the passage in seventy hours including a stoppage at Messina for coaling purposes.

If the Peninsular and Oriental Company contemplate such a step, says Mr. Dicey, he would submit to them the following ideas—

From the day when the Indian mails were carried by steamers through the Canal, he continues, "the Suez desert line was no longer of any use, and as there was only an insignificant traffic between Cairo and Suez, the line was abandoned, the mails were taken up, and were employed by Ismail Pasha for the sugar factories railways, which he was then constructing. The track, however, remains, and though covered over in many parts by sand can still be traced easily. The line could, I am informed, be reconstructed without any engineering difficulties and at a comparatively small cost. If this were done Alexandria and Suez would be connected by a direct railway of some 200 miles in length, which, if the gradients would admit of equal speed on the Alexandria-Cairo and the Cairo-Suez section could be easily crossed in five hours.

If this improvement could be carried out there would be many advantages to most of the interests concerned by referring to the old Suez desert route, and transferring the Indian mails across Egypt. The direct railway would be a far better harbour than Port Said, and one in which goods and passengers can be landed along the quays instead of being landed by tugs and boats from the steamers which at Port Said, have to lie in mid-stream. The Peninsular and Oriental Company would thus have the enormous charges for every passenger and every ton of goods which passes the Canal. At Suez, as at Alexandria, large steamers can come alongside the wharves close to the railway, the only difference being that the mails would not be carried from one steamer to another, as is the case now at Port Said, but from the railway to a steamer which would make Suez, and not Port Said, its point of departure, and arrivals for both mails and passengers to India and the Far East.

What interests are in this project, which would be equally applicable supposing Brindisi were to be still the European port of the Peninsular and Oriental Company, is the enormous saving in time and trouble accruing thereby to travellers to Egypt. The mails might easily reach Cairo from London on Tuesday, instead of on Wednesday. The discomfort of the stoppage at Port Said and the long roundabout tedious line from Port Said through Ismailia, Suez, and Bahari, would be avoided, and the cost of the journey to Egypt from England might well be materially reduced out of the saving effected by the Peninsular and Oriental Company owing to their mail steamers having no longer to traverse the Canal. Of course, there may be obvious objections to the idea in question, but as having been a passenger by the Peninsular and Oriental since I first came to Egypt in 1878, and as being, I may say, an old friend of the Board, I think it only fair to tell them that there is considerable irritation in Egypt at the way in which passengers for Egypt are neglected in comparison with passengers for India.

JOINT STOCK SHARES.

Messrs. Vernon & Smyth say in their weekly share report dated Hongkong 26th April, 1907.—The market has ruled with a further inclination to weakness in most stocks during the week with a few notable exceptions, more especially those of Hongkong and Shanghai Banks and China Sugars, both of which have shown considerable strength. The amount of each business transacted has been fair, but time contracts are still conspicuous by their absence. Exchange on London 2s. 11d. On Shanghai 11s. 7 1/2.

BANKS.—Hongkong and Shanghai, after small sales in the early part of the week at 89 1/2 and 89 3/4, suddenly rose to 92 1/2, with some small sales, and the market closed steady at that rate. The London rate remains unchanged at 108. The slight rise in the Hongkong rate is attributable to the inevitable resumption of comparative normal rates between London and China which have lately ruled somewhat abnormal. An advance in the China or a fall in the London rate was clearly indicated, and taking into consideration the firmness of the former, and the comparative inactivity of the latter, the course which the market has taken was more or less to be anticipated.

NATIONALS have been placed during the week at 51 and close with further buyers at that rate. MARINE INSURANCES.—With a few shares on offer and no immediate buyers Nations have fallen to 77 1/2, after sales at 77 1/2 and 77, the market closing steady at the latter rate. Yangmehs are required for at 170, but no shares appear to be available to meet the small demand. Cantons have been placed during the week at 250, and close with sellers at no sale. We have no business to report in China Traders.

FINANCIAL.—The market continues dull, and with the exception of small sales of Chinas at 85 and 84, we have no business to report. SHIPPING.—Hongkong, Canton and Macao have ruled firm, and after further small sales at 29 and 29 1/2, buyers offer 29 1/2. Indo-China has had an enquiry at 70 1/2 and 71 during the week, but we have heard of no sales, and the market closes fairly steady at the latter rate. Star Line (old) has found buyers at 3 1/2, while the new issue continues on offer at 19 1/2. Douglas remains in demand at 38, but shares are obtainable at 40. Shell Transport have been placed at somewhat erratic rates, from 43 1/2 to 45 1/2, the market closing at the latter rate.

REFINERIES.—China Sugars have been engaged for during the week, but no shares seem to be forthcoming, and the rate has improved, without sales, to 117, and possibly a higher one would be paid for small lots of shares. Lanzas unchanged and without business.

MINING.—Chinese Engineering are engaged for at 4 1/2, but no shares are available. Banks have been placed at 7, and close steady at that rate.

DOCKS, WHARVES AND GODOWNS.—Hongkong and Whampoa Docks cleared hands in small lots during the early part of the week at 130, and later in large lots at 118, while small sales are reported at time of closing under the latter rate. The market, however, closes fairly steady at 118, and it is very doubtful whether any shares are obtainable under that rate. Kowloon Wharves have further declined to 85 with sales and sellers. Shanghai Docks ruled quiet in the early part of the week with Shanghai quoting 33 1/2 and 34, later, however, the rate improved, and a sale of about 50 shares at 35 1/2 was reported. Hongkong Wharves also show an improvement in the Northern port and close at 217 1/2.

LANDS, HOTELS AND BUILDINGS.—Hongkong Lands continue to improve, and with an unsatisfied demand during the week at 100 1/2 and 107 1/2 the rate has gone up to 107 1/2 with buyers. Shares at the moment seem scarce and the business during the week has been of the smallest. Hotels continue on offer at 118, and it is probable that a lower rate would be accepted. Kowloon Lands have changed hands at 37 1/2, and at time of closing a few more shares are available at that rate. Hampshire found buyers in the early part of the week at 11, but later, with more shares on offer, buyers refused to pay over 10 1/2, at which the market closes with buyers. West Points continue neglected and without business.

COTTON MILLS.—We have no business to report. All stocks under this heading show a decline at rates quoted below.

MISCELLANEOUS.—China Boreas have declined to 9 1/2, sellers on the issue of the annual report. Dairy Farms, Fawcetts, Electric and Laundries have changed hands at quotations and close in a small demand. Rops, Watsons, and Powells have been placed at quotations closing with sellers. China Lights have fallen to 87 with sales, closing with small buyers at that rate. Green Islands continue quite neglected at quotation, and we have no business to report.

THE HONGKONG DIRECTORY

AND HONG LIST FOR THE FAR EAST

1907.

THE FORTY-FIFTH ANNUAL ISSUE

The DIRECTORY covers the whole of the ports and cities of the Far East, from Netherlands India to Siberia, in which European reside.
Not only is the Directory as full and complete in each case as it can be made, but each Colony,
Port, or Settlement is prefaced by a DESCRIP-TION, carefully revised each year, most of which will serve as accurate GUIDES FOR THE TOURIST, giving every detail in connection with the places, their History, Topography, &c., &c.
The Information in these Descriptions, consisting of a hundred interesting articles, packed with facts concisely set out, and containing statistics of the TRADE of each Country and Port, would alone suffice to fill a large volume.
